To Whom It May Concern,

Subject: Sponsorship and Support for Research Project on Early Detection of Diabetic Retinopathy

We, at Vardhaman Eye Hospital, are pleased to announce our sponsorship and active support for a research initiative titled “Early Detection of Diabetic Retinopathy using Machine Learning”, conducted by a group of dedicated researchers: Parth Bramhecha, Smit Deshmukh, Purav Daga, and Pratik Jaiswal.

As part of our commitment to advancing healthcare through research and technology, we have provided clinically relevant retinal image data, masked and anonymized in strict accordance with applicable compliance rules and data privacy regulations. We have also shared domain-specific insights and clinical guidance regarding the progression and detection of Diabetic Retinopathy, aiding the researchers in the development of a more robust and clinically aligned machine learning model.

The collaboration aimed at enhancing the accuracy, reliability, and early diagnostic capabilities of ML-based systems in detecting various stages of Diabetic Retinopathy. We believe this work has the potential to significantly improve patient outcomes by enabling timely and precise intervention.

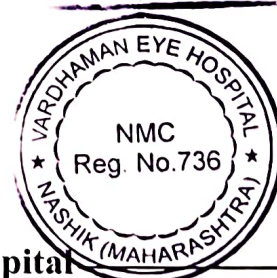

We look forward to the continued progress of this research and remain committed to supporting initiatives that bridge the gap between clinical practice and intelligent systems.

Sincerely,

Dr. Ketan Merchant
